

DENIAL
By Gloria

Let me be in denial for awhile
Let me dream of yesterday
When you were here everyday
When the world was okay

Let me push this grief away
It is too painful, and it hurts
My world is in disarray
But grief is here to stay

Let me think of you, my family
Mother and son
Once there was two
Now there is one

Be careful of the stranger
On a hot June night
He took my son's life
He ended mine

Denial can only be
For a short while
As the cold reality
Will not be denied -
You are not here

I will never
"Not be angry"

In memory of
Syd
