

THAT'S WHAT FRIENDS ARE FOR

By Vicki

In good times, in bad times,
I'll be on your side forevermore

Friends warm you with their presence, trust you with their secrets,
and remember you in their prayers.

Friends share openly, laugh often,
care deeply and trust always.
Being with a friend is more important than what you do.

Friendship is a treasure.
Friends listen to our words but hear our hearts.
Friends allow you the space and freedom to simply just be.

A friend is someone who comes in when the whole world has gone out.
A friend is the hope of the heart.
There is no joy in life like the joy of sharing with a friend.

Our friends are lenses through which we can better see ourselves.
The language of friendship is not words, but meaning.
Happiness is having a friend.

True friends are never apart, each keeps the other in her heart.
Friendships begun in this world can be taken up again in heaven, and are never ended.
Friendship is love with understanding.

Friends inspire you to believe the best in yourself, to keep pursuing your deepest dreams - then celebrates all your successes as if they were her own.

A good friend remembers what we were,
and sees what we can be.
Friends double our pleasure, and divide our sorrow.
Friends are our companions on a journey,
who support each other on this road of life.

In memory of son, Sandy